Berthoud Community Library Summer Events 2020

Summer Reading is Now Summer Learning

Why the change?

Reading is tons of fun, but we recognize that not everyone learns the same way. While you can still track your reading for prizes as you have in the past, we want to offer a more comprehensive learning experience as an inclusive option.

Do you love birds, bugs, squids, or narwhals? Now is the time to indulge your curiosity! Read books, magazines, web pages, blogs, tweets, memes, and anything else that has information, it all counts! Digest and reflect on what you read. This summer we want you to take time to enjoy and reflect on what you read.

Do you like to make things with your hands? Maybe you're a computer whiz and you'd rather create a game using the Scratch program? We want to see your crafting this summer!

Presentation is easy with photos, videos, artwork and writing! We can't wait to share your learning!

Track your reading

We are still offering the choice to track your reading for prizes this summer.

If you'd rather track your reading, or if you'll be reading to your child this summer, you can still earn three prizes!

Simply choose three reading goals. You can track time read, pages or books. When you reach each goal, contact the library to collect your prize!

Three Challenges

Read

Read: The first challenge is to pick a topic that interests you and read about it! It can be ANYTHING that interests you. Did you love the unit on ancient Egypt and want to explore more? Are you revved up by Percy Jackson and you’re ready to delve into the myths behind the stories?

Create

Create: The second challenge for Summer Learning participants is to create! We want you to dig deep into your creative side and use the knowledge you gained from reading about your chosen topic as a foundation to create something unique and interesting.

Present

Presentation: The final challenge is presentation. We know this challenge may be the scariest of the three, but it doesn't have to be. Now that you've read up on your topic, and you've crafted something amazing, now is the time to share your knowledge with others!
